Tesla's stock is still cheap, says manager of new ETF who made Musk's EV company its No. 1 holding

In an interview with Market Watch, Gary Black compares Tesla's rapid expansion with Amazon's meteoric return (>30,000%) since 2018. He expects world battery electric vehicle (BEV) adoption to climb from 6% in 2021 to 10% in 2022 and to 30% by 2025. He expects Tesla to hold its current 21% electric vehicle (EV) market share. Investing involves risk, including loss of principal. There is no guarantee that the Fund will achieve their investment objectives. In general, prices of equity securities are more volatile than those of fixed income securities. The prices of equity securities fluctuate in response to issuer-specific activities as well as factors unrelated to the fundamental condition of the issuer, including general market, economic and political conditions along with other factors. While the shares of ETFs trade on secondary markets, they may not readily trade in all market conditions and may trade at significant discounts in periods of market stress. The Fund were recently organized with no operating history. In addition, the Advisor has not previously managed an ETF, which may increase the risks of investing in the Fund.

The Fund is actively-managed and is thus subject to management risk. The Adviser will apply its investment techniques and strategies in making investment decisions for the Fund, but there is no guarantee that its techniques will produce the intended results.
